All milk deliveries to stores and homes here were halted this morning by a strike of the Milk Wagon Drivers Union in all 733.

The union contract with Associated Milk Dealers Inc. expired at 12:01 p.m., and a few hours later the Dairy Milk Co. in Franklin Park, one of the largest suppliers to food stores in the area was struck.

A combination lockout and strike then spread to other dairies in the area. All local dairies confirmed that they would not deliver milk today "unless the strike is settled soon." They said that all further information would have to come from the Associated Milk Dealers.

Fred Nonemaker, executive secretary of the Associated Milk Dealers, said that he had spoken to members and other milk dealers would lack their doors in retaliation of the strike against Dean Foods. Associated Milk supplies 61 per cent of the Chicago area's milk supply.

Nonemaker said it is not surprising any milk is delivered to homes east of Barrington and but not to commit further.

Locally reports of the milk supply are conflicting. The manager of Hillman's Food Store in Mount Prospect said that he was out of milk this morning.

Members' Food Foods, 111 S. Main in Mount Prospect, reported a two-day milk supply.

East Menke said he was joined the strike and ordered supply sent to the work.

KENNETH LIEBER, manager of the A & P Food Store at 1818 N. Arlington Heights said he had plans of milk for an average Monday. He could not predict what the situation would be tomorrow.

Richard Kravins, manager of the Village Market, 15 W. Prospect, Mount Prospect said his supply was low. Franch they could get milk from the wholesale centers.

Most agencies report came from Robert Johnson, manager of Dominick's Food at Market Place Shopping Center. Des Plaines Johnson said he had plenty of milk and did not anticipate any shortages. "We have supplies to replenish our supply that are not in stock," Johnson said.

UNION officials were in conference regarding the strike and could not be reached for comment on the morning.

But Thomas Hagarty, secretary-treasurer of Local 733, said yesterday that the drivers 1-1 been offered a $2-a-week pay increase plan 31 weekly additional contribution to the health-personnel and welfare fund. He added that the deal was for 100,000 hours in extra half-rate to their sched-

Farm Deserted, Pigs, Dogs, Cow Fending for Selves

A locked and deserted farmhouse, three starving animals and a dead cow greeted Arlington Heights police officers after neighbors complained that the animals were left penned with no food on a farm at Algonquin and Cull Rd.

Acting on phoned complaints, lost cattle more than a dead cow. The house was locked, but the police were unable to gain entry.

According to police reports, the owner left the farm earlier in the week. Whether he had sold it or just left, police were unable to determine. Because neighbors assured that the cow had left, no attempt was made to force entry to the house.

In the meantime police have taken over the job of feeding and watering the animals.

New Census Step Closer

The proposed special census for Arlington Heights is getting under way. Village Manager L. A. Hanson explained that the $4,625 he is asking the trustees to release will come out of the present fiscal-year fund and additional funds from the fiscal year starting May 1 will be used to conduct the census.

Village officials expect that the census will save money by itself through additions to the amount of minor fuel tax which the village receives.

Harper's Temporary Home Has Land-Fill Problems

Land-fill problems at the site slated for installation of temporary buildings by Harper College, adjacent to Elk Grove High School, may fix the cost of a month to $10,000. James Perry, dean of financial affairs, said soil borings indicated the soil contained fill and was not above the flood plain. He said the original report on the soil conditions had not mentioned the fill.

THE COLLEGE'S architects, Fritschner and Fitch of Chicago, recommended the use of an depressed foundation to keep a higher foundation and the buildings above the flood plain. The Harper College board approved Perry's recommendation that the architects prepare new specifications and ask for bids on the installation project.

The board plans to ask on the entire site preparation project, including permits, foundation, steps and sidewalks, and on the individual areas of work. Perry said he hopes to open the bids at the May 11 regular board meeting. The temporary buildings will have faculty offices, a book store and other facilities unavailable on the high school building itself.

An Arlington Heights couple of German origin helped in the preparations of a wedding in Barrington and gave a touch of German tradition.

Mrs. Ingrid Solterbeck, 301 F. Mine, had the bride party car decorated in white and pink carnations at Gitta's Flowers, also of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Brigitte Loris, owner of the flower shop came from Cologne, Germany, and said she was aware of the custom and was delighted to do the decorating.

Mrs. and Mrs. James Hollister of Barrington, married at the St. Ann Catholic Church, St. Ann, on May 1, 1967. The bride was the daughter of Mrs. Loris.

In Hamburg, her hometown, many wedding parties ride in the church in white caissons, drawn by white horses, and decorated with flowers.

Mrs. Solterbeck said "I assumed that the car here would be decorated with flowers, too." When she found it wasn't, she took matters into her own hands.

Mrs. Solterbeck came from Germany in 1957. Her husband, Hans, who was the best man in the wedding ceremony, came here in 1955.

Rain washed out all but the morning schedule Saturday, leaving only three champions crowned.

Completed events were the 100-meter relay, shot put, and high jump. None of the five local squads entered in the meet finished in the event.

Local entries include Arlington, Prospect, Forest View, St. Victor, and Wheeling.

Palatine was the victor of the first when Rex Peterson walked, stole second, and scored home on a Forest View error. But Fontaine slammed the door on the Cats after that.

Forest View played up its insurance run in the third inning. Tom Bartlett scored after reaching on a walk, moving to second on Bob Williams' sacrifice and going in the way.

Palatine High School will tip Wednesday to finish its mammoth annual relays track.

Prospect Nine Profits From Elk Grove Errors

The Elk Grove errors and the strong right arm of Tom Lundquist helped Prospect's variety baseball forces to a 12-1 victory over the Green-Adair Friday.

THE VICTORY, Prospect's second in four starts and third overall, moved Coach Bill Shroyer's nine to third place in the Mid-Suburban League standings while it pushed the Green-Adair deeper into the league basement. The Green-Adair were winless in three conference encounters.

Lundquist, a shifty first baseman Friday and second yesterday without a loss. The over-thrower gave up two hits in that first frame and allowed only three more the rest of the way. He fanned 11 Green-Adair while walking only one.

Gary Lemke went all the way for Elk Grove and allowed only two hits. But his team's poor defense combined with four walks were more than enough to meet him the decision. Lemke struck out two more in his seven-inning come job.

ELK GROVE'S brief lead was the result of a double by Jim DeVries, and a single by Bob Arnesen with one out. Lundquist ended the rally by getting Rick Radtke to fly out and fanning Doug Schmitt.

Prospect got that run back and added two more in the bottom of the first with the aid of a passed ball, an error, and a walk. Bruce Lander's double was the big blow in the inning.

Lander who has carried out of an early slump with a string of extra-base hits, contributed another double in a seven-run Prospect second inning.

The Green-Adair were guilty of three errors in that stanza, and Lemke gave up two more walks. Doug Klugman drove in two runs with a single to spark the opening, and Lander's double drove in two more.

PROSPECT PICKED up its last two runs in the third on a two-out single by Klugman. Lemke settled down after his first out and surrendered only one more hit all afternoon.

The Green-Adair in a last-ditch effort to reverse the loss. Larry Siegel, Sam Peters

Fenton Topples Gren Golfers

Metropolitan Ready to Roll

This evening at our preview, you are seeing the most modern offset printing plant anywhere. Aside from those actively involved in putting the plant together, you are the first to see it in operation.

The ring-side tables and the bar are, of course, permanent installations.

You might have noticed that a red room with "flying presses" are a few finishing touches needed here and there, but nothing that our city housekeepers can't take care of in the next few weeks. The plant is ready to go.

In fact it has been going. The presses have been through a thorough shakedown. For the last four weeks we have been turning out 50,000 copies of Day Publications' weekly shopper, Market Day, in addition to two commercial orders with runs of more than 150,000 each.

We will welcome a chance to fill you in on the details. Just ask us.

Strike Halts All Milk Deliveries Here

All milk deliveries to stores and homes here were halted this morning by a strike of the Milk Drivers Union Local 753.

The union contract with Associated Milk Dealers here expired at 12:01 a.m. and a few hours later the Dean Milk Co. in Franklin Park, one of the largest suppliers of food stores in the area was struck.

A combination lockout of the strike then spread to other dairies in the area. All local dairies confirmed that they would not deliver milk today.

"The strike is settled soon," they said that all further information would have to come from the Associated Milk Dealers.

Frank Nosanaker, executive secretary of the Associated Milk Dealers, said Association members and milk dealers would look their doors in realization of the strike.

Dean Food, Associated Milk supplies 85 per cent of the Chicago area's milk.

Said Nosanaker: "It is our position that a strike against one member of the employer unit is a strike against all members."

Meyer Bros. Dairy in Arlington Heights was not affected by the strike, but a spokesman said deliveries would not be made because of fear of violence by strikers or unionists from other dairies. Milk will be on sale, however, at the Meyer Dairy, 106 W. Euclid, for regular customers only.

Borden Co. said it is not delivering any milk to stores or homes east of Barrington Road, but made no comment further.

Locally, reports of the milk supply are conflicting. The manager of Hoffman's Food Store in Mount Prospect Plaza said that he was out of milk this morning.

Moran's Fine Foods, 101 S. Main to Mount Prospect, reported a two-day milk supply.

Earl Menck said he anticipated the strike and ordered extra supplies over the weekend.

Menck's will sell milk to regular customers, however.

KENNETH LUTER, manager of the A & F Food Store at 1818 N. Arlington Heights, said that he had plenty of milk for an average Monday.

Most optimistic report came from Robert Johnson, manager of Dauntless's Fine Foods at Market Place Shopping Center, Des Plaines. Johnson said he had plenty of milk and did not anticipate any shortages.

"We have sources to replenish our supply that are not on strike," Johnson said.

UNION officials were in conference regarding the strike, and said not to be reached for comment this morning.

But Thomas Haggerty, secretary-treasurer of Local 753, said yesterday that the strike had been offered a 32-week pay increase plus 12 weekly additional contributions to the health-plan and workers fund. He added that the dealers have the drivers to add as bargaining units to their schedule.

Harper's Temporary Home Has Land-Fill Problems

Land-fill problems at the site slated for installation of temporary buildings by Harper College, adjacent to Elk Grove High School, may raise the cost as much as $100,000.

James Perry, dean of financial affairs, said soil borings indicated the soil contained fill and was not above the flood plain. He said the soil report on the soil condition had not been completed.

degraded wooden piers and a higher foundation to level the buildings above the flood plain.

The Harper College board approved Perry's recommendation that the architects prepare new specifications and ask for bids on the installation project.

Perry said he hopes to open the bids at May 11 regular board meeting.

German Custom Brightens Wedding

An Arlington Heights couple of German origin helped in the preparation of a wedding in Barrington and gave a touch of German tradition.

Mrs. Ingrid Solterbeck, of 801 E. Miller, had the bridal party decorated in white and pink carnations at Gita's Flowers, also of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Brigitte Lorie, owner of the flower shop across Cologne, Germany, said she was aware of the custom and was delighted to do the decorations.

Mrs. and Mrs. James Hollister of Barrington, married at St. Ann Catholic Church, Saturday, are old friends of the Solterbecks.

"The bridegroom, my home-town, many wedding parties have in the church in white carriage, drawn by white horses and decorated with flowers," Mrs. Solterbeck said. "I assumed that the car here would be decorated with flowers, too."

Farm Deserted, Pigs, Dogs, Cow Fending for Selves

A locked and deserted farmhouse, lying staring empty, and a dead cow in the yard, were the scene of a tragedy in Arlington Heights police officers after neighbors complained that the animals had no food on a farm at Algonquin and Golf Roads.

Police went to the farm house and found two dogs, one dead and one in the yard. The dog was found dead in the yard, and the other dog was found in the yard.

In still another barn, police found four more pigs and a dead cow. The pigs were found in the barn, and the cow was found in the yard.

Because neighbors assumed the farm had been abandoned, the police were unable to determine the cause of the tragedy.

Prospect Nine Profits From Elk Grove Errors

The Elk Grove errors and the strong right arm of Tom Landwehr boosted Prospect's victory in a 12-1 victory over the Green-Adams Friday.

THE VICTORY: Prospect's second in four games and third overall, moved Coach Bob Skayton's team to third place in the Mid-South League standings while it pushed Elk Grove down to the league basement. The Green-Adams are in three consecutive losses.

Landwehr arrived a shaky first inning Friday and seemed to his second victory without a loss. The overcast weather gave up two hits in that first frame. The overcast weather gave up two hits in that first frame. The overcast weather gave up two hits in that first frame.

Gary Lankers made a key play for Elk Grove and scored only six hits, but his minor-league defense combined with the four walks were more than enough to cost him the game. Lankers struck out two men in his seven-inning score job.

Elk Grove's error in the third inning was the result of a single by Jim DeVries, and a double by Tom Landwehr. The error was the result of a single by Jim DeVries, and a double by Tom Landwehr.

Prospect got that run back and added two more in the bottom of the eighth. The error was the result of a single by Jim DeVries, and a double by Tom Landwehr.

Landwehr who has scored out of at least three with a string of extra-base hits, contributed another double in a seven-run Prospect second inning.

The Green-Adams were guilty of three errors in that frame, and Lankers gave up two more walks. Dave Kinsinger drove in two runs with a single to spark the uprising, and Landwehr's double drove in two more.

PROSPECT PICKED UP its best two runs in the third on a two-out single by Kinsinger. Lankers settled down after that and surrendered only one run in his last inning.

Dave Smith's two-run single and a four-hit hitting performance by Marty Fontaine sent Forest View's baseball team to a 3-1 victory over Wheeling.

Wheeling Netters Win

Wheeling's variety tennis crew got off to a slow start Friday against West Leyden as they dropped their first two matches, but the Cites managed to swing the remaining events and won the non-conference meet 3-2.

Jim Coca hit a smother-one single was filled in three sets 4-6, 6-3, 6-2. Wheeling's lineup was strong, and Dave Smith's two-run single was the key to the victory.

The doubles competition proved to be the winning factor for the Wildcats. The Wildcats sophomore squad swept its meet 5-0.

hitting Falcons soaring to the loftiest perch on the Mid-South League ladder Friday.

SMITH'S BIG SHOW moved the birds to a 3-1 victory over Wheeling, their third in league competition against one loss. Forest View's lead with Mike Westley hit the league lead, while Wheeling's 2-2 record leaves it a tie for fourth with Central.

All of the fireworks were finished by the third inning in Friday's match, allowing Fontaine and Wheeling's Scott Buckoff to lock horns in a no-holds-barred pitching duel the rest of the way.

Both hurlers threw the seven-inning route, and both limited the opposition to four hits. Fontaine's tireless outwork of it was more impressive than the Forest View lineup, which the Falcon lefty was much stung with his first pitch, allowing only one to Buckoff's fire.

IT WAS BUCKOFF who was joined first and hardest as the first man he faced, Jeff Jacoby, picked him for a 4-0.

single John Callagrosso followed with a best single, and Doug Ford drove a walk to lead the birds. Smith then stroked his two-run blow.

The Wildcats' outplay settled down after that, retiring three of the next four Falcons easily. He did interrupt the string with a walk to Tom Bartlett however.

Wheeling quickly reformed one of those runs in the bottom one of the first when Rex Pearson walked, stole second, and scored home on a Forest View error. But Fontaine slammed the door on the Cites after that.

FOREST VIEW picked up its insurance on a Forest View error. Tom Bartlett scored on a walk, moving to second on Bob Williams' sacrifice and getting all the way.

Milk Supply Running Out Here, Gas Station Has Some, Though

BY CHARLES MOURATIDES

If you would like to buy some milk, try a gas station! Panicked residents of the area have apparently bought up almost all the milk supply in food stores but a gas station with a milk vending machine is reporting excellent sales.

The gas station, North State Oil Co. of 57 E. Palmdale Rd., yesterday sold about 100 gallons of milk and late in the afternoon received another supply of 160 gallons.

A STATION attendant said most customers said they were there if the present supply is exhausted.

By a violence is reported, which supplies oil, but not milk, to the area. "We had to ration our supply, half-a-pint per person," said the attendant.

"We're not going to deliver any milk because we do not want any trouble with the ration people," a Rolling Meadows store manager who yesterday announced that there was a shortage of milk, early there.

"We do not want any violence," he said. "We're not going to deliver any milk, but late in the afternoon the store reported all of its stock was sold."

But, THE VILLAGE Market, 11 W. Prospect, Mount Prospect, last night received a fresh delivery of milk and current supplies were expected to be in more by this morning.

Many of the stores contacted yesterday have a daily supply of about 400 gallons a day, but Monday is a slow day so they did not get a great supply over the weekend. What they were sold by 11 a.m. Tuesday morning.

John Linton, a management consultant, said the nation broke off discussions and refused to consider any of the management's proposals.

He said management is seeking to improve the schedule of deliveries. This, however, means more deliveries to Linton said.

The union, reportedly, has been in Chicago but reportedly did not meet with the Milk Wagon Drivers Union Local 713 which said it would support the strike.

The Associated Milk Dealers, Inc., last night, at night, said there were no meetings with the union recently scheduled for this morning.

Negotiations began the night at the Sheraton Hotel in Chicago but reportedly did not meet with the Milk Wagon Drivers Union Local 713 which said it would support the strike.

Linton said the store-delivered milk is being sold at a price of $15.000 while those delivering milk to homes make about $10.000.

Ice Rink Debate Heats Rolling Meadows Parks

BY RAY MILLER

The unanimity of the Rolling Meadows Park District commission met Monday night from the heat of debate and hot tempers.

At the center of the discussion are new commissioners Philip Prete and a proposed ice skating rink.

Since last September the Rolling Meadows Park District commission has met in frequent extraordinary sessions to determine what present facilities should be expanded and improved, what new lands and facilities are needed, and methods of financing any open projects.

UNTIL PRETE and the ice rink proposal came along, the commission had smooth sailing, but then Prete was elected to the commission in a special election last month and the two-month-old session have become a bit rough.

Shortly before Prete took his seat on the board, the commission, agreed to have a $700 feasibility study made on construction of a skating rink.

Prete questioned the need of the ice skating rink, and therefore, the study.

Prete said at least one dissenting view in the state of Prete's objections, Commission Chairman Hal Conley delayed the formal vote and scheduled the topic for further discussion at Tuesday night's planning session.

Apparent before the commission was Chairman "Pete" Hesterman, a representative of a Chicago firm which specializes in planning recreational facilities.

Prete proposed the park district build an 85-by-200 foot skating rink inside a 100-by-200 foot park.

He said the park would be used as a multi-purpose building which would become the center of a recreational center program. During the six months when the skating rink is in operation.

Milk Strike Over, Delivery Back to Normal

Milk deliveries have started up again in the Chicago area. A three-day strike involving the Teamsters Union and 10 dairies ended early today.

Mayer Richard Daley said resumed the settlement after a six-and-a-half hour marathon negotiation session in his office.

The dispute had pretty much dried up fresh milk supplies in the metropolitan area. In the city itself, many more demanded a doctor's prescription before being allowed to continue.

Mother's in this area gave up their Sunday morning and began a treasure hunt for milk.

The Day officers received documents of phone calls last into the evening asking for leads to the milk that were still waiting, the valuable white stuff.

SOME HAD BEEN calling from store to store, hoping to find a quart of milk hidden somewhere on the highest shelf.

But, for the most part, the hunt was unsuccessful.

Some women reportedly have been up to 30 miles away from home in search for milk.

Yet, just before midnight, the North City Co. at 57 E. Van Vorst St., Palestine, reported that the station has been filled with an ample supply of milk.

LLOYD MEYER of Meyer Bros. Dairy, 1006 W. 46th, Arlington Heights, also said that he has been delivering milk to his regular customers and he would sell to others in cases of extreme emergency.

Drainage, Sewer Problems 'Almost' Solved at Hersey

BY MAXINE TYMA

A solution to drainage problems and storm sewer installations was almost arrived at between the boards of education of Prospect Heights Elementary School Dist. 23 and the High School Dist. 214.

Both groups met Monday night to discuss the sewer installation for the high school's sixth plant at Hersey High School. The high school site is under construction.

This army station wagon was involved in a two car collision Tuesday in Rolling Meadows. The car was driven by Lance Lavery, 21, of the Arlington Heights Nike Site, and collided with a car driven by James E. Mallet, who was stationed at the Nike Site. Police said Mallet's car drove off Wilks Rd. for 176 feet and struck two multi-lane roads.

THE ENGINEER suggested that a manhole be constructed on the Dist. 23 property to retain some of the storm water and to allow even flow into McDonald Creek.

After more than two hours of discussion, the final vote was to have the high school district submit a formal proposal outlining all the details of the proposed retention basin on the Dist. 23 property.

School Bells in July? Yes, Senator!

BY JACK A. VANDERMYN

Utilization of school facilities as a 12-month basis is the theme of a bill introduced in the House today by Sen. John A. Graham (R-Barrington).

The bill, which represents Whiting and Elk Grove townships as part of the 34th Congressional district, claims that the full utilization of school facilities on a year-round basis, "would reduce the high cost of school construction."

The Washington Republican said that the provision of the bill are not mandatory. The bill would require that school boards to operate on a 12-month calendar. Under such a plan, school construction would be spread out over the year, rather than concentrated in the summer months.

THE MEASURE says that if Congress is to adopt, some students would have their vacation time, as summer, come in the fall and some in the winter.

THE SENATOR said that the bill is not intended to expand the school year, but rather to utilize the school facilities to physical facilities — busses and money — on a 12-month basis.

Impetus for the legislation, according to Graham, came from a study by the U.S. Department of Education, which found that school construction costs are highest in the summer months.

Some of the bill's points in the Senate bill are not included in the House bill, but rather to utilize the school facilities to physical facilities — busses and money — on a 12-month basis.

2 Districts Get Palatine Funds

Despite some objections, Palatine Township Tuesday night voted to give $25,000 to school districts 15 and 4 in a meeting at Kinross Hall School, Rolling Meadows.

One citizen asked why the funds couldn't be used to provide drainage for the township, and was told that in order to vote surplus funds for such projects the township would have to set up a drainage commission with appropriate powers.

The study which will follow the organization for such projects, will include an inventory of both financial and program of local elementary and high school districts in the two townships.

THE STUDENTS were accompanied to the convention by high school representatives from the North Chicago and Winnetka, both teachers and student council advisors.

She was her position after three days of campaigning and a speech she delivered at the convention.

THE SENATOR said that the bill is not intended to expand the school year, but rather to utilize the school facilities to physical facilities — busses and money — on a 12-month basis.

School to Sponsor Mancini Concert

BY RAY MILLER

The 1,000 girls at Sacred Heart of Mary High School in Rolling Meadows have "jitter" their long-haired rock 'n' roll favorites for one of the nation's most popular computer conductors.

They're contrasted with three-time Academy Award winner Conductor / Composer Henry Mancini to put on their school's major fund-raising benefit of the year.

Their faith in the composer of such "mellow" songs as "Moon River" and "Days of Wine and Roses" appears to be considerable.

EACH GIRL HAS pledged to sell enough tickets to add to the 4,100 sent Midwest Temple in Chicago. Mancini and his orchestra will present the benefit concert there at 8 p.m. Jan. 3.

Before then the girls will attempt to sell the 4,100 reserve seat tickets in the local area at prices from $4.50 to $6.50 each.

Normally this has been undertaken by a group of high school girls, who make a deal a nervous. But Henry Schneider, vice president of the school's parent council and chairman of the affair, reads confidence.

First he points to the girls' previous venture.

"LAST YEAR," Schneider said, "they embarked upon an equally ambitious project. They contracted with the local area to sell 3,000 tickets. They sold 5,100."

He believes this year's venture is even more ambitious.

"In fact, I believe this is the most ambitious project of its type ever undertaken by any high school in the Chicago area, and I'm very confident it will be successful," he said.

Change of Blood Increases Chance for Life

The 143 exchange transfusions performed at Northwestern Community Hospital for babies born with R.H. negative factor have helped to eliminate the almost inevitable chance of death or encephalopathy for them.

In the six years since Northwestern Community Hospital opened in 1959 over 11,800 babies have occurred with R.H. negative factor or about 0.7 per cent of the newborn having the R.H. factor problem.

Under normal circumstances and without this procedure, fifty-eight of those 143 children would have probably died. Of those surviving, twelve would have been seriously retarded, one encephalitic and the remaining eight impaired in some way. Over ninety per cent of those born with R.H. negative factor and receiving the exchange transfusion at Northwestern Community Hospital have survived with no apparent brain damage or severe after effects.

Dr. Armando T. Perez, chief pediatrician on the staff and Jeannine Pearson, R.N. of the Nursery with the assistance of Dr. Keith G. Wertz, president of the medical staff, demonstrated the life saving procedure of exchange transfusion for babies born with R.H. negative factor to the hospital Board of Trustees.

In the demonstration all the necessary equipment and a life-size doll was set up under close-to-the-actual conditions. The key equipment is a syringe with a three-way valve that is connected to the newborn baby's and a tube directly into the umbilical opening of the patient. A third tube goes from the syringe to a reservoir for the old blood. Using exacting measures the new blood is drawn from the supply into the syringe and then pumped into the infant, by the same action the old blood is withdrawn from the infant and then discarded.

About two teaspoons of blood are exchanged in a time over a twenty-minute period, or until about 85 per cent of the infant's blood has been exchanged. Two and even three such exchanges are often required to effect a cure, all occurring in a three or four day period.

The R.H. problem occurs when the R.H. negative factor of the mother develops antibodies to the R.H. positive factor the infant has inherited from his father. The antibodies rapidly developing in the infant's blood cause a jaundice condition that might be apparent at birth. This condition can usually be produced and may occur to all of the children of the same parents.

Lion 9 Roars On, Sweeps Doubleheader From Marian

BY DALE HOFMANN

St. Victor's rampaging varsity baseball team took two more giant steps toward the Chargin' Prep League Premier League yesterday, bumping off Marian Catholic in a doubleheader, 10-0 and 2-1.

THE LIONS made sure they would get both games in by making use of the league's "doubleheader rule" in the opener. The rule states that if a team goes up by 10 runs, the opponent must not pitch in at least one of the games in the doubleheader.

Varsity coach Bob Stevens was allowing no margin for error. He knew that if Marian could get a run in the first inning, the game would be a toss-up. The first inning was a 10-0 rout for St. Victor.

Stevens was calm in the face of the rout. He knew that his team was playing well. He knew that his team was playing well. He knew that his team was playing well.

JERRY DONAHUE came in to relieve and recovered the win for his two-strike team.

Stevens had support to give in the opener, as he found Marian to be a team that was not as good as it seemed. He found Marian to be a team that was not as good as it seemed.

Watch For Flying Objects

Do you have a missile launched in your backyard that is capable of shooting a piece of wood to 80 feet or further — at a speed of 240 miles per hour or more?

You do. If you are the owner of one of the 25 million or so rotary power mowers in use in the United States.

According to an article in the spring issue of "Family Safety," "National Safety Council magazine," most power or mower accidents, as well as other injuries, are not "freaks," because they happen so frequently to quality. The U.S. Public Health Service estimates that about 10,000 injuries annually by power mowers.

A recent survey cited in the article, "Missile Launcher in Your Backyard," indicates such accidents are most frequent during the early part of the mowing season and that accidents with the increasingly more popular riding or tractor-type mowers appear to be the most severe.

THE MOST common injury from power mowers results from some small object in the grass being thrown by the rotary blade. The injured person is usually the operator, but you too often it is a child playing nearby.

The article cites as an example a three-year-old Ohio girl who sustained eye injury from a piece of wood that was blasted about 75 to 80 feet by a neighbor's power mower.

Other factors contributing to early-season accidents include "Vergilizations" after a winter's inactivity, new operators and unfamiliar machines—greater exposure to power hazards because grass cutting is more frequent, and water, taller grass.

THE ARTICLE lists the rules for safe mowing. Study the manufacturer's instructions carefully.

Fill the fuel tank before, not after, you start the machine.

Clear the area of children, adults and pets, and pick up all small objects before you begin.

Avoid any area where the grass is wet.

Stay away from the mower's discharge chute, and be careful about discharging against curbs, fences or walls from which debris might rebound.

Keep your feet clear of the mower at all times; never pull a back toward the feet.

Do not try to mow the mower while it is running.

Tip up the mower for inspection without first stopping the spark plug.

If you must work on the underside of a mower, first remove the spark plug after disconnecting it. So long as the spark plug remains intact, no engine can always fire one more time.

Pipe Lines

By Bob Casterline

The ladies, when men are asleep.

Maybe in the late arrival of spring. Maybe it's the late evening cool of goodness. Maybe it's the late getting home from school too early. Who knows? But believe me, they're angry.

One of them called to raise hell about the man who stole the milk. I've got a neighbor across the hall with a 9-month old baby that refuses to drink powdered milk and water.

"And we're being paying $250 a month rent for the place since the lady who we can't get into the house we're building because of all the strikes going on. The lady, 1964, not 1967?"

"First the contractors were on strike and then the machinists and now the truck drivers. We came from Iowa and I've never had trouble with anything like this in my life. How much can industry and the unions do to ordinary people anyway?"

And the lady is right to wonder.

Another lady called and asked if we'd ever seen the place where the lady was getting a driver's license, not so she could drive, but so she'd have identification. We said no.

"Well, it looks like that's what I'll have to do," she growled. She had tried to pay $2.50 a month of driver's license purchases with a check when her name came up 30 cents short.

The only identification she had was a string of credit cards. The store manager's with a card, and "They said those things out to anybody," and walked off.

"I don't know. I don't know how to drive. And I don't want to learn. But this woman wouldn't accept anything but a driver's license for identification. I guess I'll have to get it."

"If I had $17.50 extra right now I'd like a piglet to parade in front of the store. I've concluded, with a sign saying 'Via - Fair to Non-Driver-ers.'"

"Just think! If I had married Pat Nugent-'FD' be moving to a $70,000 dream house in Austin, Texas!"

Vantage Point

... by Jack Vandermyn

Firearms control, the public's right to bear arms, gun registration, all make up what is probably the most heated and least understood question before the Illinois Legislature.

Many believe that a bill's importance to the state is measured by public response. Voters may be completely indifferent to a multi-billion dollar budget, yet bombard their legislators on such matters as dogs and firearms.

Thus far, both the Republicans and Democrats have introduced personal firearms control legislation in the current legislative session.

Chicago Democratic Rep. Paul Edward is the sponsor of the Democratic House package.

Edward's proposed bill is not expected to come out of committee and contain obvious flaws, the largest of which is that while they provide for gun registration, make no effort to ban the shipment of guns by mail into the state.

WHETHER any gun control law comes out of the 1967 session depends to a great extent on the public's reaction to the measure introduced by the Republican leadership. There are three bills in the GOP proposal.

According to W. Russell Arrington, president of the Senate, the bills, if adopted by both chambers and signed into law by Gov. Otto Kerner, would:

—Prohibit the sale of firearms to persons under 21 years of age who have been adjudged delinquent or who do not have the written permission of their parents to purchase a gun.

—Prohibit the sale of firearms to convicted felons, mental addicts and mental patients within five years of their release from an institution, and mentally retarded.

The Republican legislation bans the sale of ammunition as well as firearms.

IF ADOPTED, those designed to purchase firearms would be a firearms owner's identification card. In order purchase or possess guns or ammunition, a person would have to apply for the card through the state department of public safety.

Card holders could purchase any number of guns, or any amount of ammunition, without restriction. They would have to, however, display their cards at the time of each purchase.

The third Republican proposal would create a state-wide gun handling safety program, to be administered by the Department of Conservation.

It would be responsible for instructing persons in the purchase of guns.

ARRINGTON points out that the bill would accomplish what gun registration does not — enforcement and control over the sale of firearms. The bill, while providing a complete system of firearms purchase before issuance of the purchase permit, makes it impossible for the seller to sell only to those persons who have been cleared for gun ownership.

The Federal Firearms Act of 1938 prohibits the mail or shipment of firearms in violation of a state law if the state law requires a permit before firearms may be purchased.

This new Republican proposal, working with the federal control, would end the mail-order sale of guns in Illinois. Chicago police department records show the California state shipped 4,000 guns to Chicago in 1966 — and that 948 of those weapons went to people with known criminal records.

DOCTOR SAYS

Gaining Or Losing Weight

W.C. BRANSTADT, M.D.

Q.—Since there are pills for just about everything else, why aren't there any satisfactory weight-control pills?

A.—A great variety of appetite depressants and weight-reducing drugs are available, but no one should put his main reliance on drugs for this purpose. Diet therapy helps to decrease hunger pangs in persons who drastically reduce their food intake but it will not help you to lose one ounce if you continue to eat as much as you have been accustomed.

Bingo Boom Ahead?

Bills before the Illinois lawmakers in Springfield propose a legalized state lottery and legalized games of bingo.

As the battle lines form for and against such legalized gambling are being drawn, travelers returning from England, where bingo was made legal in 1963, offer to take the win to the state.

Bingo is big in Britain, but it brings problems. The appeal for a quick fix is enormous and estimates have been made that about 10 per cent of the light little city's population, or roughly 5 million persons, are "regular clubbers" who spend drawings at the legalized private clubs more than once a week. There are probably three times that many off-and-on players.

Those of us who remember Bank Nights during the Depression years would find the present bingo set-up in England familiar, with hundreds of former movie houses converted to bingo halls and thousands of other buildings serving as temporary centers for the fast-action tournaments.

One of the problems presented by the rash to travel on the little cards of the big winning numbers are not new: the loss of money and the loss of time.

Cool miners once carried cages of animals below ground to warn them of dangerous fumes. Now scientists believe that rapid fish might perform a similar service to us by helping in the fight against water pollution.

In a program at Southwest Research Institute in San Antonio, minnows fish caught in a canal polluted by industrial wastes were analyzed on a device called a gas chromatograph. The result was housewife who becomes an addict and digs too deeply into the household money, the worker who has too much of his meager salary, the mental and physical strain on individuals already needy. Some church leaders claim participation in bingo as a continuous thing prevents many persons from taking a meaningful share in worthwhile social activities.

Latest development seems to be the increase of "bingo orphans," wandering around the city streets while their parents feverishly study their bingo cards inside the gambling centers. Places such as movie theaters, stores open at night, transportation centers and depots, even hospitals, all have become popular meeting places for people to leave the children, promising the authorities with more than just a traffic problem.

Advocates of bingo say that it offers a harmless and inexpensive form of excitement, entertainment and innocent amusement, and a chance to find companionship.

If the Illinois legislators enact the bingo bill into law, it looks as if ballyhooing here will be a boom.

Water Pollution

Cool miners once carried cages of animals below ground to warn them of dangerous fumes. Now scientists believe that rapid fish might perform a similar service to us by helping in the fight against water pollution.

In a program at Southwest Research Institute in San Antonio, minnows fish caught in a canal polluted by industrial wastes were analyzed on a device called a gas chromatograph. The result was compared with the "fingerprints" of various waste chemical products.

The offending chemical was identified through a process known as a defective index, which was required.

Scientists at the institute suggest that fish be stocked in cages in strategic spots where they could accumulate adverse pollution. Then, when retrieved and analyzed, they could point out the extent and nature of the pollution.

Press Conference For Teens

Phonetic Room will hold a junior press conference with Bert Ward, better known as "Bertie" in television's Best man series, Saturday at 2:30 p.m. in the Comedy Room at Pecos Room on North Ave. near St. Charles.

All reporters must be at least 16 years of age or under. If adults want to attend, they must ask a child to bring them. Refreshments will be served.

All dishes are specially prepared. We extremely enjoyed Pepper Steak and a combination of Viet Cuiet and Shepherd's with delicious sauce. Salads are beautiful with a choice of dressing. Diners eat up to a little over five dollars, and luncheon are little over one. Wonderful for business!

The landscaping on the exterior has been held up by the weather, but there will be lots of it, including a swimming pool and tennis court. The interior is not large, but is done in woods, reds and black leather.

and suddenly your room comes ALIVE ...

BUSINESS brought us back to the Edgewater Beach Hotel this week, and plans for expansion there are more than exciting. A few of the larger hotels have accommodated conventions by clearing out a couple of floors, but Edgewater is going to build a two-story addition that will be used exclusively for this purpose.

Not only that but, they will put toes on the teeming gale of Atlanta's Fulton just for the crowd if restaurants demand it. We will still likely, assistant manager, many good years!

DID YOU ever get out on the town on a Sunday evening? I know this is the night everyone is expected to stay home and read for the big upcoming week. We found, by reading the signs on the newspapers, that there is extraordinary change in the WEEK.

For the really die-hard, which category we put ourselves in, we found something going on at the Ramada Inn, on the Main Street, Duany Road, is doing a "menage show with imitations of well known personalities. He may look like Jimmy Durante, but he is a far distance from sounding like him.

We, too, will be retiring up St. Charles from now on!

Needs - Attention

Many women who get cosmetics on their faces stop at the chin, neglected, the neck can become dry and crack. Each night, when you are cleaning your face, pay special attention to your neck and throat. Clean thoroughly, then apply a moisturizing lotion to soften and lubricate the skin while you sleep.

A Meal Ticket for 28 Years

It's a Dog's Life - - For Mom

BY BETTY ANSLIE

A long line of dogs has cheered up our 28 year marriage. In fact Pop purchased a dog for married life, little more than a year when he was shifted to night work. Shilvey and several he had had at everyone from his wife to his mother-in-law, but he disappeared the first day. I don't believe he liked the first house entrance which went to three flights to our attic apartment.

We few weeks later we bought a Springer Spaniel puppy, all my first and Poppy was wild and found any rope or chain and managed to get loose to investigate. During the war he had a taste of farm life as he stayed with Pop's folks while we toured army camps courtesy of Uncle Sam. He liked it so well.

After the war, a returning gift from Pop to his daughter was a Cocker Spaniel, a blood beauty with factory new soft eyes and absolutely no teeth. "No black in his mouth," was Pop's comment when the dog arrived under the bed and my affectionate snuggles and behind my legs at the house of the Cocker Spaniel, a blood beauty with factory new soft eyes and absolutely no teeth.

HE MOVED with us from Iowa to Oklahoma to California and finally here. His last trip was made in the baggage car of the California Zephyr, a baggage car that wasn't able to be reached through the train. So, at assured spots I'd stand the roomette door on son and daughter, keep off the train with can opener and dog food in hand, hand for the baggage car at a low level and, with the help of the baggage man, make the steep step into the dog; took some food for the delightful-in-the-middle-of-the-train, keep off and hand back a long side of the train to our room.

I had vision of my son, Popper in hand, being left at a midwestern point where the children changed to on Chicago and Pop.

It isn't every dog that stays at the Palmer House in Chicago, but our new very Cocker Spaniel from the West side spent his first night in the hotel. He suddenly found himself on the Loop street, but then he was accustomed to grass or trees on the desert. Old Pop, he finally overtook the Cocker and he died in quiet at his home.

INMEDIATELY with the tears and plaudits of children, now three in number, we purchased a Springer Spaniel again. Another black and white affectionate, Poppy puppy, he grew to be a handsome master with plume to him. Baby rabbits by the score he brought from vacant lots and deposited as my first for me to bonnie rain and finally three lops to return and eat my life.

He had the bestest of mouths, was smart and affectionate. He put his large head on your lap and gently bit, firmly push down until you notice him. He was the perfect pet but he suffered from ear problems as the age of 10 he had to be put to sleep.

We helped him sprayed him and rode 20 miles to a vet for puppy shots. Patchie bloomed and grew, not much just enough. Hair that was sparse at a puppy suddenly grew in black and white abundance covering him from head to foot.

He'd heard me say "no more dogs unless it's a cheap dog" so he tried and succeeded in being no close to one as he could. He's friendly, breathe, smart and his Pop's dog, his mouth is black.

But, you know, something! Every dog we've had since the family and decides to mind the tail guy who seems to be man of the house. He's just their most liked.

Announce Crabtree Farm Plans

A completely modern farm, a wildlife sanctuary, a study in nature are all part of the future plan for Crabtree Farm.

Crabtree Farm, a forest preserve wild life area owned by Palestine R.D., Burlington and Chas. R.D., Route 20 at Algonquin R.D., is in the development stage. Chuck Westcott, senior naturalist at Crabtree Farm, showed slides of the present facilities and plans for the future to members of the Women's and Garden Dept. of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club.

Members of this group have been closely following the progress of the farm, especially since they helped with the planning of 50 trees there.

Purpose plans for Crabtree, nature, and see the completely modern farm in action. According to Westcott, the funds now available will take 5-6 years to complete. Crabtree Farm—500 parking facilities are now being planned. advance planning are necessary to build Crabtree Farm. For proposals call FO 9-6000.

Another note will be made by Interpretive Center contains.

As Road & Track magazine says:

"The Volvo 1800 S is a very idealistic car for people who want to travel rapidly in style, a Gran Turismo car of the type much in the news these days, but at a price that many people who cannot afford a Ferrari or Aston Martin will be able to pay."

Ferraris and Aston Martins cost over $10,000. The Volvo 1800 S costs only $3970* and you can drive one home today.

Pipe Lines

By Bob Casterline

Sometimes things happen that make us with a bang, often, pleasant feeling. One such thing will happen Sunday, New Year's Eve. High School will be decorated with formal decorations involving statues, cabinet officials, and local politicians.

SO WHAT'S the big deal? We want to feel warm all over about "Simply this: we don't have to pay for it."

New Year's Eve is being celebrated in a school costing "more than $7 million." And, they're not kidding. It actually cost $13 million plus. That's more than I make in a year! Would you believe I'm married? Contrast the New Year's Eve with the most recently completed, 214 high school, Elk Grove, Ill., including building, supplies, and equipment — the whole package, cost $2.6 million. Wheeling, Ill., a couple of years earlier when prices were lower, cost $4.9 million.

OBVIOUSLY, somebody's using his head while somebody else is losing his. Elk Grove and Wheeling are both nice looking schools. They both have a lot of nice people using the buildings. New Year's Eve looks nice, too, and I suppose the people there will be nice as anybody else. But somebody, the New Year's Eve, think their school has to look like a college. Did 214 apparently is willing to accept for something which looks like a high school. Which is just about the best idea in education since apples for gold.

So, why don't we all go over there to Northfield Sunday and all around on our wheels and be grateful we have people working for us who would rather do a good job of spending money than build money themselves.

CATER LINES: It's not the cat, it's the copy. The kid, modern make as long as they create their own. Some of it's pretty, at least, but it's dogmatic, it, when they start moving to the left, it's a lot of folk, a line must be drawn.

Have you heard "I've Got Rhythm" recently? By The Happenings (See-beep-beep-beep-beep)

The Arlington Day

"Honor the original dream by always proudly keeping the paper's freedom and intellectual integrity."

— Marshall Field III

Page 4 Friday, May 5, 1967

John E. Stamos, Editor and Publisher William J. Kiedalch Managing Editor R. S. Johnson, General Manager

The Arlington Day is published daily, Monday through Friday, by Day Publications, Inc., 217 S. Arlington Heights Rd., Arlington Heights, Ill. 60005. Second-class postage paid at Arlington Heights, Ill. and at other mailing offices. Subscriptions: 21 cents a week, home delivery. Out of town U.S. mail rate $10.00 a year; $6.00 for six months. Newsstand price, 10 cents a copy.

A Two-Way Street

President Johnson put it succinctly the other day: "We must guard every man's right to speak, but we must defend every man's right to answer."

It is not a statement that will appeal to the disaffected at whom it was directed. The first clause offends because it punctures the sars of martyrdom in which a few of the protesters against the war in Vietnam in particular and the government in general have wrapped themselves. It is difficult to be a martyr to a cause when authority defends your right to endorse that cause.

And since the President obviously includes himself and his administration in the second half of his sentence, this, too, will offend some of the disaffected. To a small but loud-spoken minority of them, freedom of speech seems to mean the right to call the President of the United States a "buffoon," his secretary "a madam" and his cabinet members "a bunch of scoundrels." It does not entail the right of these men to reply.

The President's statement should now make it clear that this is neither his way nor the traditional American way of doing things. It is fortunate that there have been some attempts, it is said out of government, to equate dissent with disloyalty or to shift the responsibility for the war on those who oppose it.

As for the President himself may occasionally default on his own words in defense of dissent, the fact remains that the war disastres are and have been and will continue to be free to protest and demonstrate and express themselves if they want.

They have so far failed to sway either the government or any great number of the people in more an indictment of their ideas and tactics than would be any unopposed official or unofficial resistance to suppress them. History will determine whether the disastres are right or wrong about Vietnam. But one thing can be said with certainty today: The President has never more right than when he said that freedom of speech will never harm America "as long as we remember it is a two-way street."
